DROUGHT EXHIBITION

A selected portion of a proposed permanent exhibition about the United States prohibition era. The section focused on the Roaring Twenties and Jazz culture as well as the distribution of illegal beverages.

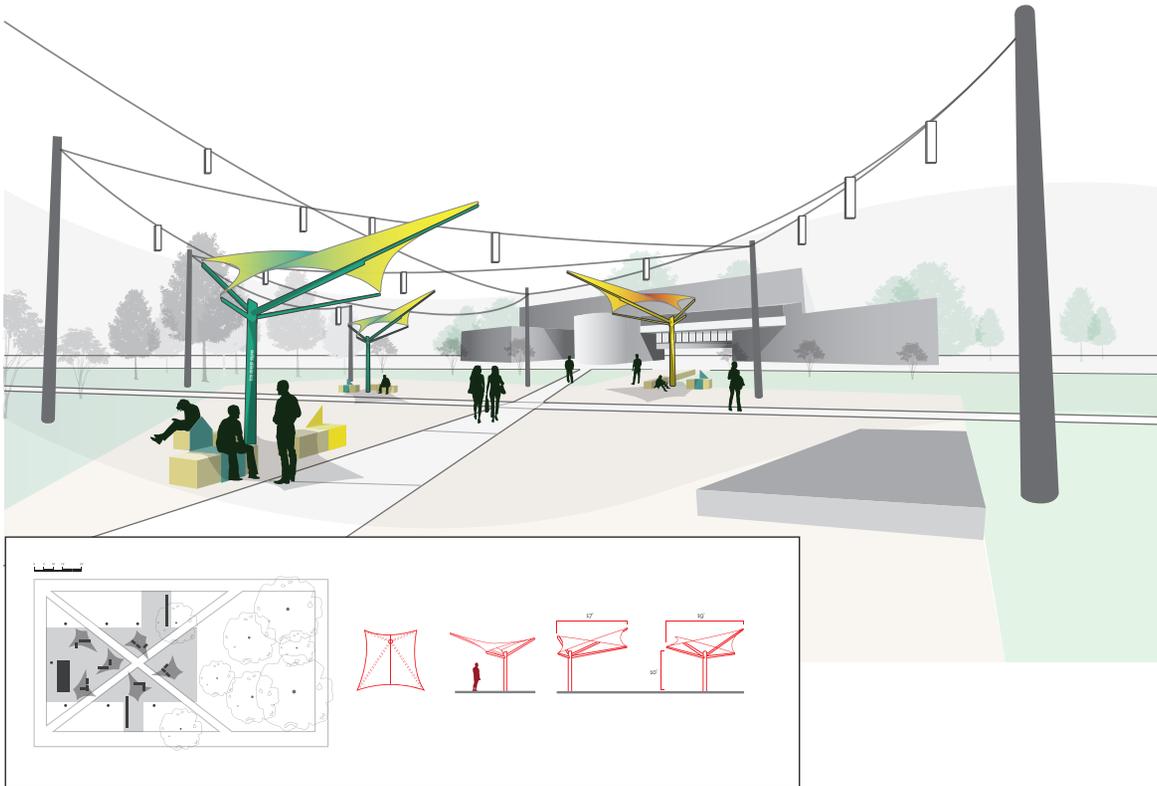

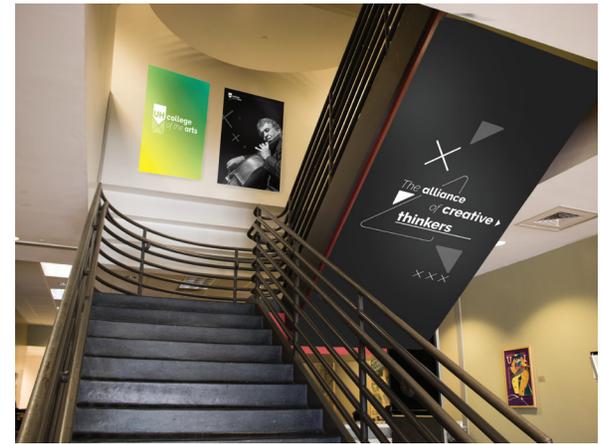

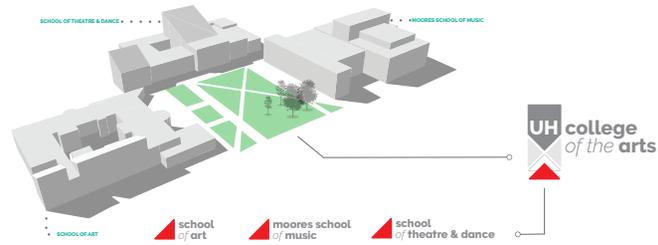

VIBE HOUSTON KIOSK

The Houston Kiosk system aims to connect and highlight the different neighborhoods of Houston. The brand needed to be flexible enough to allow for future expansion to the system and to provide a unique amenity for the neighborhood where it is located.

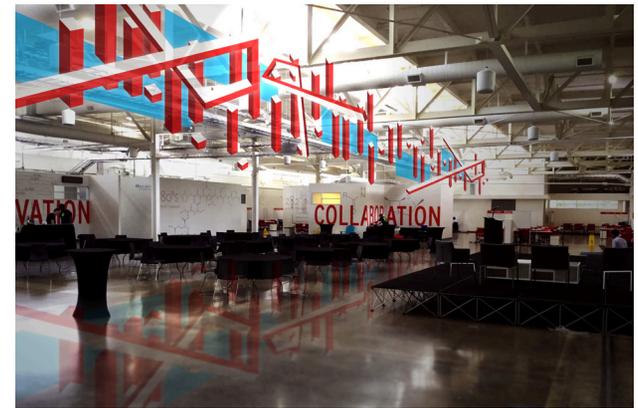

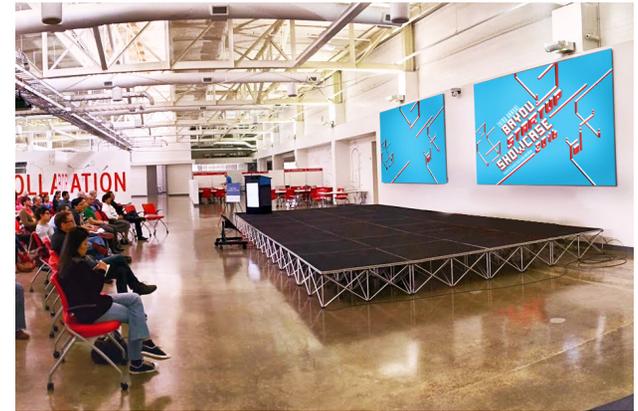

CONSTRUCTION | DEMOLITION

The pair of data visualization posters addresses the unsustainable aspects of our conventional construction waste management. The data reflects the impacts of recyclable material going directly into landfills as well as the environmental effects of the building materials.

COLLEGE OF THE ARTS IDENTITY

The newly created College of the Arts at the University of Houston needed an identity system to help establish themselves as a powerful component of the Houston arts scene. The identity needed to adhere to the University's branding guidelines and be flexible enough to incorporate seven different departments with more to be added.

BAYOU START UP SHOWCASE

The showcase is an annual convention to bring attention to college start-up companies. The event needed an identity for its day-long activities which include: networking, seminars, lectures, and presentations by the college students. For the identity, it was requested to bring the off-the-beat attitude of the showcase into the design.

FLUX LIGHTING

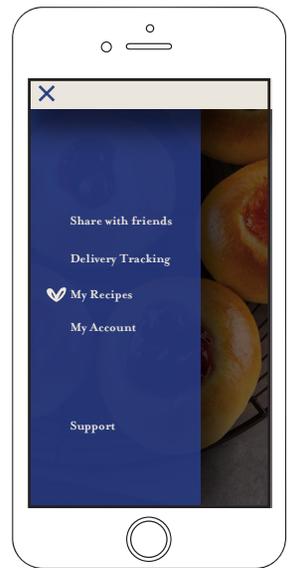

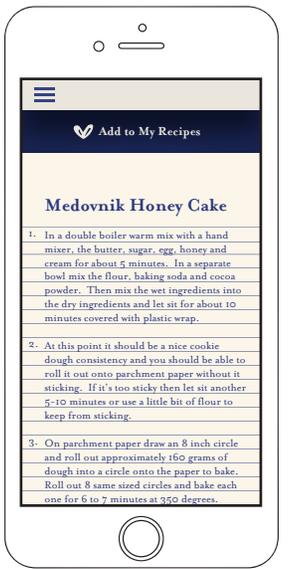

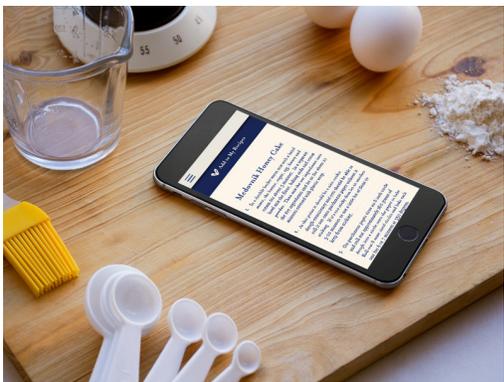

Flux lighting is a brand of lamps that were designed with a minimal aesthetic for the Blaffer Art and Design gallery. The lamp provides directional, task lighting that focuses on a singular area.

ANIMATING HISTORY

Public art installation which was a collaboration between the UH graphic design and architecture students. The "Map Pins" were produced through research and observations in order to start a critical conversation within the community of the Third Ward. The 2919 Dowling St. pin acted as a lens to see back in time to when the business was in its prime.
